To our Creditors:

This is a letter we never wanted to write, but as the attached package makes clear, the devastating impact of Covid-19 on the travel industry has forced us into filing a Notice of Intention to Make a Proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act.

For the past 10 years we have chased our vision of “building something of real and lasting value, that will impact our community, and make our mark on the world.” Along the way our stakeholders and partners have been a constant source of support to our Lefties, and we appreciate all that we have been able to achieve together.

This crisis, caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, has affected all of us in many ways. Our thoughts and good wishes are with you, and your loved ones, as we navigate this new reality. Please continue to stay healthy and safe.

We appreciate that this decision adds another financial burden to you, our creditors, and we regret that. Our intention with taking this step is to gain the necessary time, and flexibility, to find the best way forward.

From us and all our Lefties, thank you and stay safe.
